From information obtained by an "Evening World" reporter this morning it appears that the District-Attorney and the Custom-House officials have received a quiet tip from the Washington authorities to the effect that the twenty add Chinese cases had better be dropped for the present. It seems that the Treasury Department is not satisfied that the evidence in the hands of the Government is sufficiently strong to justify the immediate pressing of the charges, and the Department will make a more thorough investigation before taking any more steps in the business.

The District-Attorney's office and Chinese inspector Scharf don't seem to get along well together. It is claimed that Scharf has not furnished the evidence promised, and for that reason a number of the cases have fallen through. Before the evidence against the suspected Chinamen is laid before the Grand Jury Mr. Scharf will probably be called upon to show his hand at Washington.

Three cases were called by Commissioner Shields this morning. They were Harry Lee King, Chay Yue Chung and Chin Du, all accused of aiding and abetting in smuggling in Chinese laborers in the guise of merchants.

Assistant District-Attorney Hall said that the Government was not ready to proceed with the cases, because of the absence of necessary witnesses. He also said that it was not deemed expedient to try the cases now, as he didn't care to develop the testimony in hand at the present time. Mr. Ball wanted it distinctly understood that his course was approved by Inspector Scharf.

Commissioner Shields discharged the prisoners on the ground that they were entitle d to an immediate hearing, and it would not be fair to make them wait for several months until the Government got ready to prosecute. "Evening World" reporter this morning appears that the District-Attorney and
